Notes:
1. Administrative adjustments and alternative forms of compliance are methods of providing flexibility in meeting the intent and purpose of the zoning ordinance without requiring a variance review by the Board of Zoning Appeals.
2. The administrative adjustment procedure allows an applicant to request minor variations of up to 15 percent from setbacks or yards required by the zoning ordinance.
3. Applicants seeking a deviation from the subdivision standards should file a Subdivision Exception application.
4. Alternative forms of compliance are provisions in the zoning ordinance that allow an applicant the opportunity to propose an alternative method of meeting or exceeding specified standards (e.g., parking or landscaping).
